Gem Profile ... Chrysoberyl

The name is derived from Greek "Chrysos" (gold). A variety of gemstone that is characteristically yellow, Chrysoberyl varies from golden-yellow and brown to yellowish-green or a bluish-green. Such stones are transparent and do not alter their color under varying illuminations. Sometimes they can be confused with Sapphires.

The dark green variety is Alexandrite. A colorless variety is rare and is seldom used as a gemstone. The yellowish-green variety has sometimes been confused with Peridot and Spodumeme. The transparent stones are faceted, usually mixed cuts; those that are cloudy are cut en cabachon.

Chrysoberyl is an obscure gem. Its hardness is 8½ on the Mohs scale (diamond is 10). For this reason, it takes an exceptional polish. Very few pastel-color gems have such luster and brightness.

It has been known that when it is properly cut, a yellow Chrysoberyl can pass for a fancy yellow diamond.

Besides hardness and durability, Chrysoberyl has rarity going for it, at least in the larger sizes above 20 carats. It is believed that rarity will one day make Chrysoberyl a far more sought-after collector's stone, providing that current fashions will ignite sufficient interest in its color.

MATTAPOISETT SELECTMEN'S MEETING
MAY 1, 1990-by VIRGINIA MORGAN

On the third try, Rodman E. Taylor, Jr. of Taylor Ocean Industries, Inc., succeeded in obtaining Selectmen's approval to establish a bay scallop aquaculture program in 100 acres off Mattapoisett Neck west of Ram Island. A 7½ year license was agreed to, in principle, at a second public hearing held last Tuesday before approximately 35 people.

After first considering a five-year license, then reconsidering, Selectmen agreed to the longer license period enabling Mr. Taylor to obtain financing and to get a start this summer. There is an option for renewal after the 7½ years. There will be a $2,000 performance bond for removal of equipment in the event the business should fail. The license fee paid to the town is $25. per acre per year for a total of $2,500 per year and is not transferable.

The license was granted in principle to give Selectmen and Mr. Taylor time to work out conditions, such as Mr. Taylor's responsibility in the event of abondonment, description of the project and the exact location on a waterways chart.

At a meeting April 17th, Selectmen advised Mr. Taylor to contact concerned lobstermen and boaters to get their input prior to this second hearing. Mr. Taylor said he did so and, based on their responses, repositioned the site to west of Ram Island. At the first hearing it was the site location and not the concept that was objected to. At last Tuesday's hearing a show of hands made this clear - that citizens did favor the concept. He had considered splitting the site into two 50 acre sites, but found this also unacceptable.

Boaters were in a much more receptive mood to accept Mr. Taylor's change in location; some of the previous objectors spoke in favor of the new site, including David Cameron, Wayne Walega, Wallace Underwood, and Robert Ringuette, Brandt Island marina owner.

Shellfish Constable Brian Nunes said he is very much in favor of an aquaculture project. "We've lost so much over the years and anything that will get our natural resources back to help Mattapoisett, I'm all for it."

At the start of the hearing, Selectman Daniel O. Mahoney read a letter from Frank J. Germano, Jr., senior biologist with the state Division of Marine Fisheries, saying, in part, "We generally view the scallop aquaculture project as a positive step to enhancing the shellfish of the Commonwealth. Besides providing a town with a means to supplement their shellfish resources, create employment opportunities, enhance local environmental awareness, and create artificial habitats to attract other marine species, the town can collect a fee for the license. Off bottom aquaculture, such as hanging lantern nets and racks, provides structures which attract many other species of fish and shellfish. They are, in fact, much like an arti-

Mr. Taylor explained after the hearing his next move is to obtain approval from the town Conservation Commission, State Department of Environmental Protection, the U.S. Coast Guard and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. "Then I can go for financing", he added.

In other business, Selectmen:

WERE NOTIFIED by the Board of Assessors of the resignation of Assistant Assessor/ Administrator Shirley Kelley, effective May 25, 1990. Shirley, who has been working in the Town Hall in several capacities for about 23 years, started as a clerk and advanced to her present position.

Although her letter gives notice of her resignation, Assessor Chairman John D. Gibbons when contacted on Thursday, said, "The resignation is somewhat official; we are trying to straighten things out with the Personnel Board. Shirley has given the Assessors' office many extra hours and we would like to keep her. Her salary is the lowest on the totem pole, $19,000 after over 20 years of dedicated work. If we have to replace her, we would have to pay much more than her present salary. The clerk in the Assessors' office is not qualified to step into the administrative position. Shirley's

When contacted on Thursday, Shirley said, "I love my job, but with the handling of over $7 million in town operational budget, I feel I should receive more compensation. About 10 years ago I took courses and was certified as a Massachusetts Accredited Assessor. We will wait to hear what the Personnel Board recommends", she added.

In her letter, Shirley wrote that her action is necessary since her requests have been both unanswered and unresolved. "My last working day will be May 25, 1990. My last day of employment, for retirement purposes, will be June 15, 1990. This will have used the rest of my compensatory time and vacation time which is due to me."

VOTED TO HAVE the Board of Selectmen file an application, with the Town as the applicant, with the Board of Appeals for a Special Permit to change the footprint of the existing fire station on Route 6 to a new footprint, with construction drawings to be considered at another time with the Selectmen. Fees will be waived.

Fire Chief Donald C. Wood showed a drawing of the proposed building with the addition and said this was the design favored by the fire department members. The design was prepared by John Folino at no charge. Chief Wood said this step was fine with him. "We are in no hurry but hope to get working on it by next Spring."

The Chief said the land hasn't been surveyed yet but only measured by tape. "We are asking for a 12 foot high door, not only for the antennas but because now we have only a three to six inch clearance on the fire truck. When there is snow or ice on the door we have a problem."

Building Inspector Andrew J. Bobola asked if there would be a conflict of interest as he also a firefighter. Selectman Mahoney said no problem as there is no profit involved.

VOTED TO HIRE John C. Bowman as part-time town mechanic, effective May 1, 1990 at a wage rate of $13.09 per hour through June 30, 1990, and $13.74 per hour from

A letter was received from Mr. Bowman accepting the job and wages. Mr. Bowman also notified the Town Clerk that as a special municipal employee (as an elected member of the Board of Health), he has been hired by Selectmen as town mechanic. The letter clears the way legally for Mr. Bowman to hold multiple jobs and get paid for both jobs without a conflict of interest.

DREW THE NAMES of persons who will receive dinghy spaces on the wharf. Selectmen's Administrator Lois K. for the annual town meeting, if all dates are needed. A special election for overrides will be held on Tuesday, June 5th, and Tuesday, June 26th, has been set for a special town meeting, if necessary. Selectmen pointed out the special town meeting will be necessary only if the votes for the Old Rochester Regional High School renovation bond issue required reconsideration.

DISCUSSED THE POSSIBILITY of a proposed central post office, combining the offices in Mattapoisett, Marion and Rochester. This change would limit postal services in Mattapoisett to mail boxes and stamps, Selectmen indicated. Selectmen agreed to pursue the matter by contacting several sources for continued information.

MET WITH Manuel DelLima of 7 Martin Avenue who expressed concern for the quality of life in Mattapoisett and how the police department relates to that quality.

As a resident of Mattapoisett for 25 years, Mr. DelLima said he would like to preserve the small town flavor. "In my opinion, the police department has outgrown us and outgrown the town."

Mr. DelLima related an incident that occurred at 11:35 p.m. on April 27 when his son, Steven, age 17, was stopped by three police cruisers and given a citation of $35. for a taillight and plate light being out. He did agree that a $50 fine for no sticker was fair. However, Mr. DelLima said he was focusing on the need for three cruisers to respond to this incident. He said, admittedly, the taillight being out might be legal cause for stopping a car, but in the past it might have had the policeman saying, "Hey, get the taillight fixed." He said he spoke to Chief James. F. Moran who was polite but not very helpful.

(On Thursday, the Police Chief said he would have no comment until he has had an opportunity to speak with the Selectmen.)

Chairman DeCosta thanked Mr. DelLima for keeping the Board informed. "That's how we learn things", he said.

ANNOUNCED the State Division of Marine Fisheries has ordered the closing to shellfishing that area from Mansfield dock on Mattapoisett Neck to the town dock.

Shellfish Constable Nunes said this is a seasonal closing for summer and is based on past records kept by the state. This area will include the Shining Tides section.

INTO FAMILY EYE CARE

How important is preventative frame maintenance to eyeglass wearers?

We believe it is very important. We encourage our patients to return on a regular basis, roughly every 6 to 8 weeks so that we can realign their frame, check for any loose hinge screws and perform whatever maintenance needs to be performed on that frame in order to keep it in the same condition that they originally purchased it in. One of the worst things that could ever happen is to go on a vacation and have something happen like the hinge screw fall out or the temple gets lost. The person then would not be able to wear glasses - it could spoil the entire vacation.

The town has no insurance coverage as this is not a public way. He said, "She is entitled to walk to the beach but not to drive. There is no turnaround. Mattapoisett Landfill Hearing

APRIL 30, 1990-by VIRGINIA MORGAN

Three articles to make the sanitary landfill self-supporting will be on the warrant for the May 21st annual town meeting. These were explained last Monday to about 15 residents by the Landfill Advisory Committee Chairman Jarvis C. Stratton and committee members.

The operational plan has been developed following a resounding refusal of town voters at an October 1989 special town meeting to have SEMASS take over the landfill. Subsequently, an advisory committee was formed to study the problems and make recommendations for the landfill's future, the chairman explained.

Other advisory committee members include Barry Denham, Richard Barrows, members of the Board of Health, and Dale Barrows, operator of the landfill for the past five years. Before the April election Selectman Daniel O. Mahoney served on the committee.

The three articles, which will be Articles

OUR 20TH YEAR

2, 3 and 4 on the warrant, include:

1. To establish an Enterprise Fund, with income to go to carry expenses of the operation of the landfill. (Mr. Stratton said "we are now making money, but we can make more in the future. Dale pursues commercial haulers for the present cost of $100. per load regardless of tonnage. It should be $40. to $50. per ton. The collection is more this year than last year but monies wind up in free cash. This Enterprise Fund will give us the opportunity to operate the landfill with the collections.")

2. To authorize the borrowing of $400,000 to purchase and install a scale, purchase new earth moving equipment and a building to house the new equipment. (Mr. Stratton explained that in order to charge more of the commercial haulers, "we need a scale. We can guarantee a fair amount of money. When landfills get fewer, the cost of dumping will go up. We need to charge a market rate that will increase our income.")

3. To set fees and regulations. "The Board of Health can set fees at a landfill, but we feel a town meeting vote will avoid any problems in the setting of fees."

"Hopefully", said the Committee Chairman, "as of July 1, 1990 (fiscal 1991), if the article passes, we plan to open the landfill five days a week, Tuesday-Saturday, with proper personnel at the gates. Presently, it is open only two days a week. The plan is to establish a resident user fee, with all vehicles, no matter what size, having a sticker. Passenger vehicles will be given the first five-coupon book free; after that the book will be $10. or $2. per trip. Vehicles 10,000 pounds will be $25. per book or $5. per trip. pounds, $10. per trip; five-coupon book, $50. Trucks 25,000 to 35,000 pounds, $20. per trip, five-coupon book, $100."

Richard Barrows said if all goes as planned the smaller vehicles will not have to pay for each trip the second year - just for the sticker. The first year more funds will be needed for start-up operation.

Chairman Stratton said "We want to 'Save our Dump'; we want to keep our landfill open and make it self-supporting. We would be one of a few in the nation to operate our own landfill. We are asking for level funding of $137,000 for fiscal 1991. It will take a while to get the landfill on a self-supporting basis." The plan's operation will not affect trash pick-up which will continue to be sent to SEMASS.

"Our aim was to keep our priceless asset. No one wants to lose it and most people like to have it. Our landfill is good for many many years. we've been meeting with this Advisory Committee once a week and putting in a lot of hours and have come up with this operational plan. The landfill, 11 of 20 acres have been used, has equal acreage to go. If we operate according to state DEP rules, we can operate for another 30 to 40 years. We hope the taxpayers agree with us", said Mr. Stratton.

Questions from the audience:

Have you considered recycling or composting areas? Mr. Stratton said, "Yes we are, but first we have to establish a self-supporting entity. In the future we hope to get involved, but it will be costly. The question is who wants the articles for recycling and who will take them away?" queried the chairman. "Composting is a matter of organizing a space to place it and will it be picked up or individuals dropping it off? The area to the left of the entrance could be considered but heavy equipment is needed." Mr. Denham agreed, saying these are good ideas for the future but for now we need to keep it open.

Mr. Denham explained the new modern scale can be computerized in the future. "We will monitor what's coming in and it will give us an idea how much fill we will need to cover. It will take close monitoring over the years." Mr. Stratton said, "We are sensitive to residents on North Street. We don't anticipate a string of trucks going up the street as SEMASS was proposing."

In response to a question, "Will we be taking commercial trucks from outside Mattapoisett", Mr. Stratton said the Board of Health will have control of the haulers and if it is possible to get hooked up with good companies on a regular basis you can specify the type of clean trash. Normally, the town doesn't produce enough each day or yearly to make it pay. "If we get a bad load once, we will know by monitoring the gate who the hauler is and not do any future business with them. And, no, we will not take SEMASS leftovers. The haulers need us", said Mr. Stratton.

base) which read, "Trash from New York goes to Rochester SEMASS". "We don't need this - we want to keep Mattapoisett landfill to benefit ourselves", she said.

Question - Will the Enterprise Fund generate enough funds to cap the landfill in the future? Mr. Denham said, "We hope to reserve $95,000 the first year. We estimate it will take 10 years to reach a point of needing to be capped or lining the new area."

Question - Where will the stumps and brush go? Mr.Denham explained this is a separate problem. "We hope to make regulations for that problem, but first we have to get these plans in operation so we can preserve the landfill."

Selectmen Chairman John N. DeCosta expressed the Board's thanks for the many hours the Board of Health and the Advisory Committee has spent on this matter. "The plans sound great, and the board will support you at town meeting."

Cupola Raising Thursday

One Fairhaven Road Associates, in conjunction with Fisher & Rocha (contractors), Tallman, Drake & Guay (architects), and Charles S. Ashley Insurance Agency, representing C.N.A. Insurance Companies, has put forth effort to reconstruct the Cupola and outside appearance of the Grange Hall building in order to protect its historical integrity. The building, which contains four apartments, was renovated in 1984 and a fire in 1989 destroyed the cupola and roof. Bruce Rocha, along with Roger Guay, has worked many hours to design and construct the cupola as near to its original state as possible. Pictures, drawings and many custom hand-crafted designs were used to accomplish this end. One Fairhaven Associates, and its partners, had much concern for the historic significance of this build-

"EARS FOR ROSE" WALK-A-THON
SPONSORED BY ORRJHS

On Saturday, May 19th, 7th grade students from Old Rochester Regional Junior High School will be participating in a Walk-a-Thon to benefit their "Hearing Dog Campaign".

The students decided to sponsor a hearing dog after listening to Linda Cunningham, a hearing impaired speaker at the Junior High last December. Linda explained to the students how life for a deaf person is considerably different from that of a hearing person. After Linda spoke, the students conceived the idea of sponsoring a "hearing dog" for a hearing-impaired person, and with a $3,000 goal in mind they have been busy ever since.

The students have been raising money

"WHAT'S IN IT FOR YOU?"

Whether you are a native (born here), almost native (lived here at least 50 years), or newcomer (anyone who doesn't fit the previous two categories), the Mattapoisett Historical Society has something to offer you and an organization to which you should belong.

Mattapoisett is special - and the Historical Society is one group trying to keep it special by preserving the memorabilia of its past; being a resource to those who want to know its history; and offering programs and activities that tie together yesterday and today.

The Bookbindery Rte.6 Fairhaven, MA

New England and that's not just local members who say this. The comments have come from out-of-town, out-of-state, visitors as well as local museum professionals.

The Museum collection covers the period from the late 1700s through the 1940s, and includes whaling artifacts, domestic items, farm implements and tools, tools of the various early trades, and even Mattapoisett's first fire engine (built in 1821).

Why is it important that you and your family become members? If you're proud of this town and you're glad you chose to live here, then you have an opportunity to learn more about what, over the years, has brought the "specialness" to your town.

The more people who get involved, the wider the scope of programs and activities that can be offered. We presently offer a fall-winter program series open to the public (have you attended any?); we have a school outreach program serving third through junior high students; the Museum is open 5 days a week during July and August, and is always available to be opened for tours and visits during the rest of the year.

Our Membership Drive is now underway and will culminate with a special Open House at the Museum on June 3rd.

Join the Historical Society - we're not a group of dust-gathering artifacts - we're alive and well and want you to join us to keep Mattapoisett special.

Workshop for Homebuyers

June W. Mendell, Executive Director of the Mattapoisett Housing Authority, announces that there will be workshops for prospective homebuyers in the area. As the home prices in many Massachusetts cities and towns are lower than they have been in years, and many lenders now are offering favorable mortgage terms and financing incentives to prospective buyers, the following organizations are co-sponsoring the BUY '90 HOMEOWNERSHIP CAMPAIGN: Massachusetts Housing Partnership, Executive Office of Communities and Development, Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency, Massachusetts Association of Realtors, Home Builders Association of Massachusetts and Massachusetts Affordable Housing Alliance.

The BUY '90 campaign includes a series of regional homeownership fairs to be held in May and June. At each fair local builders, brokers, and lenders will provide information on: attractive, affordable homes for sales; favorable mortgage terms; credit counseling; home inspection services; and workshops throughout the day on the basics

Mattapoisett Memories, Part IV

by JENNIE HILLER LUDMAN

Summertime was relaxing for children. No school after June and more playtime; also, jobs for boys and girls of 10 years or older. I had a bicycle and used it doing errands. One steady summer job was to carry the 6 p.m. mail to a summer resident half a mile away. It was their dinner hour and the servants were busy. I earned 50 cents a week. A friend, Susie Bowles, had a similar job for another family, the Bacons, near Ship Street, so we usually kept each other company and enjoyed the outing before "dark". My brother had a paper route for the Saturday Evening Post. I recall that he sold the magazine for 5 cents, kept 2 cents and sent 3 cents to the dealer.

One winter our harbor was frozen over with ice several inches thick. David could skate very well and made shortcuts over the ice to his customers. One delivery was at our Lighthouse where a family lived and kept the big light going year-round.

Before winter set in, my older brother George had a job cutting out scallops. He could earn 25 cents a gallon. Sea foods were plentiful and many of our meals were "steamed clams", quahog chowder, oyster stew, boiled lobster, creamed shrimp, all brought home by my older brothers when the season was right.

My brothers did not own a boat when they were growing up. David had the urge to sail one, and got into trouble when he swam out to a small sailboat and decided to take a ride in the harbor, not knowing who owned the boat. When Captain Jenney (father of the attorney) saw his boat sailing back and forth not far from the Long Wharf, he decided to wait and teach the culprit a lesson. He was surprised to see David, son of the Captain's good friend - Captain Hiller (my father). They had been at sea together. So, Captain Jenney only reported the incident to my father. David got a tough lecture and tongue scolding. I don't recall whatever else for punishment, but my father did use harsh language and David never got into that kind of trouble again. He was very lucky that Captain Jenney was a good friend of Captain Hiller.

All my brothers had summer jobs where they could to earn enough to buy clothes and tickets for a show at our Town Hall. Summertime held many happy tiems for children. There was the Annual Lawn Party held on the library lawn. Skidmore's band played once a week in the evening. We could swim every day at the public beach, and for 5 cents ride on the electric trolley car to Marion or for 10 cents to New Bedford.

When our relatives had occasion to visit New York, they went at 5 p.m. from New Bedford on the steamship and arrived in New York City early next morning. Dining on the boat was delightful and children loved sleeping in the bunks of the staterooms.

Winter sports were enjoyed by children and grownups off and on depending on the weather and amount of ice for skating and snow for sledding. The cranberry bogs were flooded and they provided excellent smooth ice for skaters. Since they were partly protected by woodlands, and the water level was low, they were also safer than ponds. One bog on North Street near the Stetson farm was popular since it was not a long walk up the hill on North Street. At the west end of town was the Mill Pond which attracted many children as well as grownups who got out their skates in the evening after work, built a bonfire and enjoyed the evening. However, one danger spot caused accidents. It was the thin ice over part of a narrow stream at one end of the pond. My brother Matthew, who was 10 years old at the time, bravely tried to skim over the passage but the ice cracked and he went into the cold water up to his waist. I recall running home with him - half a mile or so, and wondered what mother would say. But she didn't scold, just got him into dry clothing as quickly as possible. The column in the Mattapoisett Courier covered the story in the next issue - "Matthew Hiller took an involuntary bath in the Mill Pond last week."

A few families who had horses also had sleighs and hoped for enough snow to ride in them. My uncle, Thomas Luce, who lived on Water Street, owned and drove a fast horse with his one-seater sleigh. A ride with him was long remembered by the children. While the husbands were racing their horses and sleighs, the wives were carrying on their weekly duties for the church - an afternoon program or an evening one. The Missionary Society was often busy packing a barrel of donated clothing to send to a school or church home maintained for needy families. I recall that they were very busy in my home one afternoon to finish packing a barrel in time for the pick-up driver to take it to the depot where the train would carry it to Boston and then to an address in Louisiana. That afternoon, my niece, Molly Hiller, came in from school to visit Grandma before going home. She slung her pretty coat with the large pearl buttons over the nearest piece of furniture, not knowing it was the Missionary barrel. The coat was special since her mother had made it from a beautiful broadcloth and added the mother-of-pearl buttons which had been used

The driver had already come to pick up the packed barrel. There were no telephones in town, so there was no question of the missionary members about the lost coat. There was no doubt where it must have gone - off to Louisiana in the Missionary barrel.

Q. Should I get my eyes examined every year? How about my children?

A. If you are over 35, in your teens or a school-aged child, you should have an annual vision examination.

Once every two years may be all you need if you are in your twenties and early thirties, unless your optometrist advises otherwise.

Parents should start their children off with a first vision examination by age three and again before entering school. Since vision may change rapidly during the school years, annual examinations make good sense.

After age 35, yearly optometric examinations are needed to detect eye disease signs early and to keep pace with changes in vision that occur naturally as we get older.

New England" is an exhibit of Marine paintings of the New England coast. The show surveys the major artistic movements of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries and how the artists of these schools depicted the shores of New England. Luminist, realist, impressionist and naive paintings are represented with over one hundred works of art on loan from institutions and private collections throughout the United States. Many of the paintings are romantic views of the New England coast, but also included are ship portraits, genre and topographical art. Works by Benton, Birch, Bradford, Buttersworth, Gifford, Hasseltine, Hassam, Kensett, Lane, Bricher, Johnson and Hunt are among the seventy-five artists included in the exhibit. A few of the forty lending institutions include: The Baltimore Museum of Art, The Bostonian Society, The Butler Institute of American Art, the Essex Institute, The Georgia Museum of Art, Indianapolis Museum of Art, Milwaukee Museum of Art, The Peabody Museum, The Rhode Island Historical Society and The San Diego Museum of Art. A fully illustrated catalogue will be on sale in the North Wing Gallery and at the Museum Store on the grounds of Heritage Plantation.

lithographs and prints, statues and trophies, ceramics, and articles used in everyday life. All trace the development of the national game from its infancy and exemplify its impact on the life of Americans. Apart from their historical and cultural value, the depth of color and strength of design of the memorabilia produced during the dead-ball era which ended in 1920 have rarely been equaled.

One of the rarest of baseball collectibles is a particularly beautiful and remarkably well preserved "Spalding Lil Ball Boy Mascot". This terra cotta figure representing a small barefoot boy with engaging smile, offers a Spalding baseball in his outstretched palm and served as a receptable for storing additional balls.

A prized Honus Wagner tobacco card (1909), scarce because Wagner halted distribution in opposition to smoking cigarettes, exemplifies the use of baseball players in product advertising as a result of the game's increasing popularity.

Of particular interest among the photographs is one of the 1920 World Champion Cleveland Indians wearing black armbands in memory of Ray Chapman, killed by a pitch during the season, as well as individual photos of the 1908 Pittsburgh Pirates on a fan that opens from a miniature bat.

The artifacts with baseball figures or motifs, such as andirons, watches, a clock, a quilt, a rocking chair, a shaving mug, kerosene lamps, pitchers, a stein, plates and a pencil box add to the breadth and beauty of the exhibition and illustrate the ways in which the great American pastime

In this workshop participants will use piecing techniques and machine stitching to create a sixteen inch sailboat pillow top, and then construct it into a soft, flange-style pillow. This handmade pillow with a nautical touch will enhance any decor. This workshop is suitable for any level sewer, but is especially appropriate for beginners as only minimal sewing skills are necessary to complete the project. Class members will need to bring sharp fabric scissors, straight pins, a needle and a pencil with a sharp point. The remainder of the materials will be supplied. Fee for this workshop is $30.00 for members and $45.00 for non-members of the Museum. For more information call 888-3300, extension 22.

who is involved in a dune preservation project at Horseneck Beach points out the botanical and geological aspects of the dynamic, moving, ever-changing and fragile sand dunes.

Beach grass adapts to the desert-like environment of the beach and holds dunes together. Dunes are in danger of erosion and damage by beach-goers, off-road vehicles and pets. It doesn't take much to destroy fragile beach grasses and dunes or the many species of wildlife that use the dunes for nesting, protection and raising their young.

and William Fields. Prof. Karen Harvey will be pianist.

Concert proceeds will benefit SHARE's client Anna Ouellette of Fall River, who is in her 70s and, although blind, studies medical transcription after her job developing film at St. Anne's Hospital in Fall River is through. SHARE engineers developed a computer with a "talking screen" which uses a voice synthesizer to let Ms. Ouellette know what she has typed. However, the computer is borrowed and she and other blind persons awaiting help need equipment of their own.

SHARE- the Society for Human Advancement through Rehabilitation Engineering Foundation - was founded in 1981 by SMU engineering professors Lester W. Cory, Richard Walder, and Philip H. Viall.
